DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Priority

Applicant cannot rely upon the foreign priority papers to overcome this rejection because a translation of said papers has not been made of record in accordance with 37 CFR 1.55. See MPEP § 201.15.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mossbeck et al (US 6,862,763). Mossbeck et al shows a mattress 10 constructed from parallel strings of pocketed coil springs 30. Each string of springs 30 are formed from a row of interconnected pockets 32 each of which contains a coil spring 34. The string is formed by folding a piece of fabric in half to create a first ply 42 and second ply 44, and then sewing or welding the plies to form the pockets 32. As shown in Figure 3 each string 30 has alternating tall pockets 56 of a first height H2 and short pockets 58 of a second height H3. The springs 34 are preferably of an identical height before being placed and sealed within the pockets. When the strings 30 are assembled into a mattress a checkerboard pattern of alternating height springs is formed. As shown in Figure 4 the spring height pattern can be varied to construct posturized zones within the mattress. Note also the spring pattern shown in Figure 5.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 18, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The comments made concerning the §102(e) reference are unpersuasive since the applicant needs to file a translation of the priority document in order to effectively overcome the §102(e) date of the Mossbeck reference. With respect to the comments made concerning both of the objections to the specification, the examiner is in agreement with them and has dropped the objections as a result.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 20 to 26 are allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
